Storage Solutions

At the heart of every organization is information. Optimizing and protecting the data you depend on is essential to ensuring the success of your business. Our core mission is to design and implement dependable ways to store, retrieve, and manage your critical assets. Bedrock Technology Partners simplifies storage challenges by providing proven, centralized and automated data management solutions featuring the industry's most innovative technologies. Our broad technical expertise, combined with our comprehensive services and in-house technology labs, enable us to pinpoint the right solution for any requirement. When planning your data management objectives, partner with the dependable team at Bedrock and our proven record of success.

Staffing Services

Bedrock Technology Partners Staffing Services can supply highly qualified technology professionals focused on your data center, infrastructure and network environments, as well as individuals skilled in all phases of the software development life cycle.

These individuals range from executives and project managers to engineers and support positions. The key to our placement success is the integration between our staffing and technology divisions—recruiters and engineers working together to find the best candidates to meet your needs.

Project Management Services

In today's rapidly changing global market, project management has become increasingly prominent as executives look to optimize the business value of IT. Bedrock project managers are involved in all phases of an initiative, including budget management, identifying requirements, training and most importantly, delivering successful implementations. Whether your organization has one or many projects planned, Bedrock Technology Partners can help ensure the successful completion of your projects on schedule and within budget. Our project management experts are experienced in a variety of industries and are required to maintain certifications from organizations such as the Project Management Institute (PMI) and Six Sigma. You will receive highly skilled, trained, and qualified experts who adhere to the best professional practices of the project management industry.

Strong Partnerships DELIVER MORE VALUE

At Bedrock Technology Partners, we believe that less is more. It is that philosophy that drives our approach to partnerships. We have been selected as data management specialists by the leading manufacturers in our industry, and we value the trust they place in us. By being selective in the products and solutions that we represent, we are able to invest in extensive training to ensure that we are experts in the technologies, we believe, are the best available on the market. Additionally, all of our technology partners offer complimentary solutions to one another—enabling us to deliver simplified integrations, operational efficiencies and strong foundations for our clients to build on. With a strategic approach to partnerships, we are able to deliver the most effective solution for your business today while helping you plan for the future.
